

HEAT

PROVING MORE DEADLY THAN THE PLAGUE.

THE SUFFERING IS INTENSE.

Hundreds of Prostrations, Many Deaths Recorded—Situation in the West Temporarily Improved—No Indications of Permanent Break—Awful Night in Eastern Cities.

The weather prediction for Newark and vicinity: Showers and thunderstorms tonight, and probably Wednesday. Moderate temperature. Temperature extremes at Columbus station, 23 years' record, for July 2: Maximum, 98 degrees in 1898; minimum, 53 degrees in 1892; minimum temperature at Columbus in the past 24 hours, 70 degrees; maximum temperature, 98 degrees.

New York, July 2.—The terrific heat increased this morning. The official thermometer at noon registered 97 degrees. In the streets the mercury climbed to 108. Men, women and children are dropping like flies through Greater New York. Judging from the hospital reports the prostrations are running up in the hundreds. Fifty deaths have occurred in the past twelve hours. People are alarmed as the torrid wave is proving more deadly than the plague. There have been several cases of sudden and dangerous insanity. One man without a word of warning, jumped from a bridge train and was severely injured. Another in Williams street chased pedestrians with a dirk. He was overpowered before he could do any harm.

Cleveland, O., July 2.—The heat situation in the west improved today. Chicago and St. Louis and many smaller towns were refreshed by showers and the temperature was modified.

Indianapolis, July 2.—Daneil Healing a pressman, fell dead from heat this morning while at work.

St. Louis, July 2.—Rain and relief from the death dealing heat which St. Louisians have undergone for nearly two weeks, is promised for tonight by the weather forecaster. From last night to noon today six additional heat deaths occurred. The night was one of the worst yet experienced, the thermometer never getting below 81, and that was not reached until seven o'clock this morning. Dozens of prostrations occurred and the city ambulances were kept busy. At 11 a. m. today the mercury stood 93 degree.

Parkersburg, W. Va., July 2.—Five prostrations and one death from the heat have occurred in 24 hours. It is much cooler today.

Rochester, N. Y., July 2.—Although there is quite a breeze this morning, the thermometer registered 94 at ten o'clock. The highest temperature yesterday was 96.

Albany, N. Y., July 2.—At 8 o'clock this morning the thermometer here registered 91 in the shadow, at 10 o'clock 94 was recorded. No fatalities were reported.

Elizabeth, N. J., July 2.—The official thermometer here reported 106 this morning. Nixon's ship yards and most of the foundries and workshops have shut down. Five deaths from the heat are reported. There are many prostrations.

Washington, July 2.—As far as the weather bureau could forecast this morning there is no prospect of the early breaking of the hot wave. The official thermometer registered 90 degrees here at 10 o'clock today one degree lower than at the same time yesterday. The thermometer yesterday reached 102 and the weather bureau would not be surprised to see a duplication of that record today. The temperature had moderated somewhat in the lake and Ohio valley regions, but according to the weather man this is but local and temporary.

New York, July 2.—The jamboree of the mercury is still on here with no prospect of relief. During the night 23 persons succumbed to the torrid heat and a hundred cases of prostrations were reported. The total number of deaths due to the excessive heat yesterday was 75 and the reported cases of prostration ran into the hundreds. Since June 27, 147 deaths have been reported. The thermometer at 9 o'clock recorded 94 in the street against 88 at the same hour yesterday, indicating that if New Yorkers were scorched yesterday they were going to sizzle today. The weather man said this morning that New York may expect no relief for at least 48 hours.

Last night was one of misery for everyone, the dwellers of Fifth avenue mansions and the populace of the stifling tenement districts suffering alike. Hardly a breath of air was stirring until midnight and then a slight breeze came in from the sea. Thousands spent the night on stoops, sidewalks, parks, roofs, fire escapes and in fact any old place which offered a breath of air. Suffering does not amply express the conditions that prevail on the lower east side, where whole families live, or rather exist, in single rooms in the big tenements. It is in this district that the greatest number of deaths are occurring and scenes were enacted there last night such as were never seen before. Stified and faint; the people carried mattresses to the pavement, the roofs or fire escapes and there, half nude, spent the night. The wails of suffering babes could be heard all during the night and there was no such a thing as sleep for anyone. In Central Park and the several other city parks thousands of men, women and children spent the night. Children were allowed to run about almost nude, men doffed shirts and foot-wear and women sat on benches with bared shoulders wearing the loosest garments.

Down at Coney Island, stretched out on the cool damp sand, 15,000 slept. About 8,000 slept on the sand at Rockaway beach and those places were probably the coolest places in New York.

Before the sun was fairly up this morning, the surf was black with bathers. The hospitals are crowded with heat victims, the clang of the ambulance gongs sounded in the streets all night.

Hundreds of horses fell dead in harness yesterday and their carcasses are strewn about on every hand today. Asphalt pavements are as soft as dough.

At 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon the official mercury stood with 2 degrees of 100, the highest it has been since September 7, 1881. It was the hottest July 1 on record.

Philadelphia, July 2.—Although yesterday's temperature broke all Philadelphia records when it reached 102 degrees, the mercury at the weather bureau this morning shows an advance of six degrees over yesterday's figures for the corresponding hour.

At 8 a. m. 91 was registered, and at 10 a. m. 93. On the streets reliable thermometers indicated 98 degrees at the latter hour. Fourteen deaths were reported in the early hours today.

Washington, July 2.—(Bulletin.)—Acting Chief of the Weather Bureau Williams issued the following bulletin at 11 o'clock today: "There are no recent indications of a permanent break in the warm wave which covers the country generally east of the Rocky mountains. Local rains and thunderstorms will furnish temperature relief in the lower lake region, the upper Ohio valley and in the mountain districts of Pennsylvania, Maryland and West Virginia, and there is a possibility that these local rains may occur in limited areas in the Atlantic coast states.

"Telegrams received this morning by the weather review reveal the unprecedented temperature for 8 a. m. of 92 degrees at Philadelphia and Baltimore. The statement is made that practically all previous records for the same season of the year were equalled or exceeded yesterday in the middle Atlantic states. The official general forecast is: Fair and warmer weather tonight and Wednesday over the middle Atlantic states, the lower Ohio valley, and the middle Gulf states."

Phoenix, Ariz., was the hottest city in the country yesterday the thermometer there recording 104 degrees maximum. The coolest spot was at Kalispell, Mont., 38 degrees minimum.

MRS. RIEDELL RETURNING

Weary of Exile and Remorseful She and Morey Leave Winnipeg, Man.—An Advocate Dispatch Says Mrs. Riedell Will Come to Newark.

WINNIPEG, July 2.—Weary of exile and remorseful, Mrs. Clara Atherton Riedell and William Morey, Jr., the war department clerks, who eloped from Washington a short time ago, reached here on the way home. They continued their journey after a brief stop. Mrs. Riedell will return to the home of her mother, Mrs. Gibson Atherton and her daughter at Newark, Ohio, while Morey will return to his family at Washington.

The above telegram was received at the Advocate office this afternoon at 3 o'clock, and the news was conveyed to Mrs. Atherton, who is at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. W. Owens, on Church street. Mrs. Atherton wrote to Winnipeg last week when she learned through the Advocate that her daughter had gone to Manitoba, but had received no reply. She was much gratified to learn that Mrs. Riedell had resolved to return.

DENISON TRUSTEES

Meet at Toledo Today to Elect a Successor to Dr. D. B. Purinton—Rev. Emory Hunt May Be Chosen.

Toledo, O., July 2.—A meeting of a committee of Denison University trustees is being held this afternoon in the office of Attorney C. T. Lewis of this city for the purpose of taking action on electing a successor to Dr. D. B. Purinton, who recently resigned the presidency of the Granville university to accept the presidency of the West Virginia State University.

The trustees met at Granville recently and appointed a committee of nine with power to act. This committee of nine selected a sub-committee of three, who are in session here today. While nothing definite is given out up to 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, it is generally believed and hinted that Rev. Emory Hunt will be asked to accept the presidency of Denison. Mr. Hunt was formerly a Baptist minister here, but is now located in the East. His presence in Toledo today adds strength to the report that he will be offered the place. It is thought that Mr. Hunt will accept.

Mr. Hunt did great work for Denison in raising the $150,000 necessary to secure Mr. Rockefeller's gift of $100,000 and he is intellectually well qualified for the position should it be offered him.

HOTEL BURNING

ENTIRE TOWN IS THREATENED WITH DESTRUCTION.

As There is Not a Gallon of Water in the City Reservoir—Pipes Clogged With Mud.

Huntington, W. Va., July 2.—The Adelphi Hotel, located in the heart of the city, is burning. There is not a gallon of water in the city reservoir, and the whole town is threatened. Since 9 o'clock last night all the reservoirs have been empty as pipes leading to the station are clogged with mud. People are suffering, all industries in the city are idle, with but few exceptions and through passenger trains arriving stay until shifting engines run to Ceredo and Cattleburg the nearest towns and mring a water supply, so they can proceed.

Huntington, W. Va., July 2.—The Adelphi hotel is now in ruins. There is no water here yet. Several hand-some residences near the hotel were torn down to prevent a spread of the fire. The loss so far is estimated at $50,000.

A NOVELTY.

SPRINGFIELD SOLD TELEPHONE
FRANCHISE AT AUCTION.

Home Company Offered $2500 and Will Erect Independent System for the Fire Department.

Springfield, O., July 2.—An auction sale of telephone franchises was held in the city council chamber last evening by the board of public affairs.

Three companies, the Springfield Citizens, Springfield Independent, and Springfield Home Telephone company, have been conducting a lively fight for a franchise.

The board announced a week ago that it would grant the franchise to the company offering the largest cash bonus and presenting the best ordinance. The Home Company bid $2500, besides agreeing to erect an independent system for the fire department. The Independent Company offered a $5,000 bonus providing no other competition was allowed or $500 a year for the first 1,000 telephones in use and $1 each year for all over the number. The Citizens company declined to bid, but filed a petition in the probate court demanding that the board be compelled to grant it the franchise. The bid of the Home company was accepted and the system must be in operation within one year from date.

NIAGARA BANK

Ordered Closed by State Inspector
Kilburn This Morning—It Created No Great Surprise.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 2.—The Niagara bank was closed at 10:10 o'clock this morning. The closing was ordered by State Inspector Kilburn. It is claimed the bank was closed for inspection only.

New York, July 2.—The failure of the Niagara Bank at Buffalo caused no surprise in Wall street this morning. It was known to be weak and the suspension was expected. The same interests that controlled the National City Bank, which failed Saturday, dominated the affairs of the Niagara Bank. The Niagara Bank's capital was $100,000. Its deposits were less than $1,000,000.

HEAT VICTIM

Jacob S. Rogers, the Famous and Wealthy Locomotive Builder Died Today.

New York, July 2.—Jacob S. Rogers the famous builder of locomotives, fell a victim to heat today. He was found dead in his room at the Union League Club at 11 o'clock this morning. The body lay on the floor and indications point to the fact that he had made an attempt to crawl for aid when death overtook him. He was one of the richest men in New Jersey. His wealth is estimated at $10,000,000.

Middleboro, N. Y., July 2.—A violent windstorm last night caused immense damage in Powell's Valley, 10 miles from here. Many farm houses were blown down, and it is believed later news will bring reports of loss of life.

Washington, July 2.—Plans are completed for the return of Mrs. McKinley to Canton, Friday. The President and family intend to remain in Canton till September 1.

JONES

ACCLAMATION

AT THE JUDICIAL CONVENTION.

Work of the Meeting Done Up in Short Order at Centerburg—Both Judges Escorted to the Hall—Expressed Their Thanks to the Convention.

Centerburg, O., July 2.—The Democratic judicial convention met at Centerburg today and nominated Judge John David Jones of Granville, and Judge Emmet M. Wickham of Delaware, for Common Pleas judges.

D. M. Keller of Newark, as chairman of the committee, called the convention to order this morning, and C. M. Wright of Mt. Vernon, was made temporary chairman, and E. M. Bell of Utica, was elected temporary secretary, the temporary officers then being elected permanent officers of the convention. There were no contests.

In the convention Delaware had 33 votes, Knox county 38, and Licking county 67; total 138.

Judge Hunter of Newark, moved that the rules be suspended and that the call of the counties be made for the nomination of candidates, which was adopted.

Before any nominating speeches were made Hon. J. E. Jones of Newark, moved that the rules be suspended and that John David Jones and Emmet M. Wickham be nominated by acclamation. The motion was adopted unanimously.

The judicial committee was then named as follows:

J. R. Lytle of Delaware.
John K. Hayden of Knox.
David M. Keller of Licking.

This committee was appointed to notify the two judges of their nomination and to escort them to the convention hall. Judges Jones and Wickham were then introduced to the convention by Mr. Keller, and each expressed his thanks for the honor of the nomination. The convention was over before noon.

The Delaware Glee club entertained the convention with some fine music this morning.

The Licking Delegation.

A large and enthusiastic crowd of Democrats left Newark on the 8:30 a. m. Newark and Granville electric car for Granville, this morning where they took the T. & O. C. train for Centerburg to attend the Democratic Judicial convention held there today. In addition to the regular delegates, several other Democrats went along to thus show their appreciation of Judges Jones and Wickham, and give them a good "send off" for their second term.

PIG

Responsible for a Wedding at Wilkesbarre, Penn., and Here is the Story.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 2.—A three weeks' old pig brought about a marriage here yesterday. The bride, Matilda Parkerson, is 52 years old. The bridegroom, Hiram Johnson, is past 59. Both have known each other since childhood. A few days ago Miss Parkerson noticed the pig in Hiram's pen and she claimed the ownership but Johnson protested. Miss Parkerson brought the matter before 'Squire Conahan. After the alderman had heard both sides of the case he directed that the pig be killed and divided equally. Both sides protested but neither would yield the ownership. "The only way to settle this case," said the 'squire, "is to get married and keep the pig in the family."

After some hesitation the pair concluded it was a good idea. A marriage license was procured and the Alderman performed the ceremony.

We are glad to see the honors paid General Gomez the Cuban patriot, wherever he goes, on his present visit to the United States. He was as brave and aggressive in war as he is mild and prudent and unassuming in peace. With the aid of the United States, Gomez brought his war for liberty and independence against Spain to a successful ending. Aguinaldo was unsuccessful in precisely a similar enterprise, because the United States took the place of Spain in a work of subjugation and conquest. We were honored in Cuba and disgraced in the Philippines, and success in one place in maintaining American principles and in the other in reversing them doesn't change the fact. It is probable General Gomez will be elected president of the Cuban republic. If right had prevailed Aguinaldo would have had the same distinction in Luzon. In fact he was made president of the Philippine republic, but could not sustain himself against the overpowering strength and resources of America.

The trusts cut every way. The New York World lays the blame of the failure of the Seventh National Bank of New York and the Marquands to the fact that they were engaged in a combat with the anthracite coal trust. The coal trust, backed by Morgan's millions, had closed every avenue of exit from the coal regions, and the Seventh National bank and the Marquands had attempted to break the blockade with an independent coal railroad, but in doing so were driven to the wall. The World says they "violated the laws of finance, which, unlike the laws of the statute books, are mercilessly self-enforcing, and unpitied consequences have resulted, but in the end the fight against the coal trust will be won, and its brigands and brigandage will be punished." Possibly.

Lord Wolseley, who gave way to Earl Roberts as commander-in-chief of the British army, has a high opinion of the American soldier and declares our regular army is the finest of its size in the world. We all believe that as good Americans. Lord Wolseley attributes the superiority of our soldiers to the fact that they are paid good wages in comparison with the British. He says that a better class of men are drawn to enlist. This is correct, and the British general tells his people it is a question of pounds, shillings and pence, and they must pay their soldiers better or fall back on conscription. It is generally believed that the army reorganization and increase in England will fail unless Tommy Atkins gets more money or conscription on the German plan is adopted to keep the ranks full.

Foraker Right for Once.

(St. Louis Republic.)
When Senator Foraker introduced Senator Hanna as the permanent chairman of the Ohio Republican state convention he described him to the delegates as a man who knew his business and how to attend to it. There can be no question of Senator Hanna's knowledge of his business. It is his business to run the Republican party in the interests of syndicated monopolies of this country. He was placed in public life to attend to this business. He is strictly attending to it.

Hanna's Oratorical Slip.

(Washington Star.)
Senator Hanna refers to this "unparalleled prosperity" as being the "normal condition of things." That is normal condition of things should be unparalleled is an idea similar to that expressed by George Bernard Shaw, when he decided in substance that he was regarded as a freak simply because he was unique in being able to reason correctly.

Treatment at different times failed to afford me any relief and at last I stopped using medicine and went and got a package of Doan's Kidney Pills at Crayton's. STRIKE

AMONG THE MILL MEN MAY NOT LAST LONG.Independent Mills Sign the Scale—Machinists' Strike at Cincinnati is About to be Settled.

Pittsburg, July 2.—Looking back at the results of the first day of the strike, the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers feel satisfied that they have made a successful start in their contention with the sheet steel and steel hoop branches of the United States Steel corporation. All the union plants are idle and many workers in the open mills are on strike.

While officials of neither side will venture a prediction, much quiet talk is being indulged in, the trend of which leads to the belief that before the usual summer shutdown of the mills has expired a settlement will have been reached.

Association officials say they are satisfied with the situation and claim they will be able to control between 35,000 and 40,000 men in the two companies. No move has been made by either side and it is doubtful if anything decisive will be done for at least a week. Both men and manufacturers agree that a shutdown for about two weeks is necessary whether a settlement is reached or not. In the meantime the association officials will make every preparation for a long struggle.

The Amalgamated officials do not consider the negotiations with the steel hoop company broken off, but still pending, and may be renewed at any time. I. W. Jenks, manager of the company, intimated that the matter might be taken up any day, and gave the inference that a settlement would be arrived at soon.

Reports received at the general office of the Amalgamated Association show that nearly all the independent mills have signed the new wage scale. It was stated in Youngstown by members of the conference committee of the Amalgamated Association that the American Tin Plate company signed the scale contingent on the action of the American Sheet Steel company. The scale was signed by the Sharon Steel Hoop company. It is an independent concern and employs over 400 hands.

Getting Together.

Cincinnati, July 2.—A conference was held between representatives of the Laidlaw-Dunn-Gordon company and striking machinists in an endeavor to reach a settlement of the trouble at that plant. President August Herrman of the board of new water-works commissioners was a party to the conference as an arbitrator. A proposition was submitted by the manufacturers and after a long session it was so amended that representatives of the strikers agreed to submit it to their executive board for approval. About 350 machinists are employed at this plant. It is expected that should the trouble at this plant be satisfactorily settled other settlements will speedily follow.

Revising the Constitution.

Pittsburg, July 2.—The committee on revision of the constitution of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers is in session here, engaged in cleaning out of the constitution all of the dead timber that has accumulated in the past 26 years. The revision probably will consume the entire week. An important addition will be made under the action of the recent convention in the continuous wage clause, and the discretionary power accorded the chief executive of the organization.

Strike Averted.

Chicago, July 2.—The threatened strike of the 3,000 woodworkers in Chicago was averted by the manufacturers of saloon, store and office fixtures, who acceded to the demands of the men and signed a two-year agreement, granting an advance of 25 cents a day in the men's wages.

Linemen Out.

Cincinnati, July 2.—All the linemen of the Cincinnati Traction company struck for an advance in wages. Their places were filled by promotion and no inconvenience was suffered by the street railway company or the public.

Want a Shorter Day.

Newcastle, Pa., July 2.—The machinists, blacksmiths and helpers of both the big local plants of the American Tin Plate company went out on strike for a 9-hour day. About 160 men are concerned so far.

Boxmakers Strike.

Cincinnati, July 2.—About 100 members of the United Order of Boxmakers and Sawyers' union struck at the two leading manufacturers in this city. They demand an increase in wages.

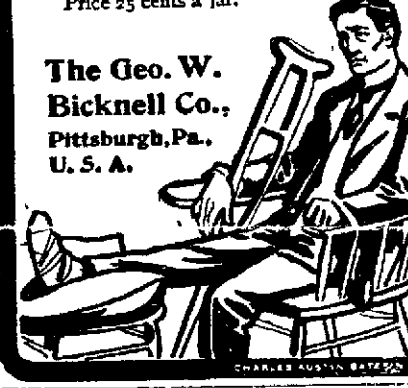

Will Start Monday.

Fronton, O., July 2.—The local plants of the Republic Iron and Steel company have been notified to resume at once. They will start Monday.

To Test the Anti-Gambling Act.

Little Rock, July 2.—The first prosecution under the anti-gambling act passed by the recent legislature was begun when R. A. Furth was arraigned on the charge of running a gambling house. The penalty is $1,000 fine, half of which goes to the informant. Furth's arrest, it is understood, was for the purpose of testing the validity of the anti-gambling act, for which purpose some of the best legal talent in Arkansas has been retained.

Pepsin Syrup Co.,

Dear Sirs:—For the past ten years I was troubled with my stomach.

About four years ago I was taken down with rheumatism for three years. All medicine seemed of no benefit to me. A year ago I was advised to take Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. I truly believe I would have died but for this medicine. My rheumatism is entirely gone and my stomach is in good condition. It has saved my life and I cannot recommend it too highly.

Yours respectfully,

ELWOOD MCCracken.

It all depends upon what you want in a soap. If you require simply a dirt remover, almost any soap will do. But if you care at all about the thing which is to be washed, you must think twice before you act. Any soap will clean linens and muslins, but Ivory Soap leaves them as white as snow. Any soap will clean sheets and table cloths, but Ivory Soap leaves no coarse, strong odor. Try it once! IT FLOATS.

DR. HARTZLER

Who is Lecturing at Springfield, Writes of the School of Methods and Reviews.

In a personal letter written to a member of the Advocate staff, Dr. J. C. Hartzler writes from Wittenberg college, Springfield, O., in part as follows:

According to promise, I make brief mention of the Wittenberg School of Methods and Reviews, under the wings of the college and the management of the faculty. The various courses embrace reviews of the common branches, including methods of instruction and the history of educational growth. The course also includes instruction in the sciences, higher mathematics and modern and classical languages.

The recitation periods begin at 7:20 in the morning and continue till 1:40 afternoon. The afternoons are devoted to rest or study, as the student may think best.

The enrollment this year has already more than doubled that of last, and new enrollments are had almost daily.

The college campus, said to contain forty acres, is simply delightful. Squirrels and singing birds are numerous, and wild flowers are in abundance. The shadery all over the campus is most inviting.

Many of the students are here, both to rest after a siege of teaching the past year, and to review certain lines of school work for the coming year. The ladies dormitory is about full and provisions will probably soon be made for fuller accommodations.

It is the purpose of the new president of Wittenberg college, Dr. Ruthroff, to arrange for much more extensive advertising for the next session of the Summer School of Reviews and Methods.

Springfield is a delightful city of substantial growth and prosperity. The numerous manufacturing establishments are in full blast humming with machinery and hundreds of skilled mechanics, turning out enormous quantities of manufactured articles.

Allow me to say that the Daily Advocate is the first choice of my mail matter, coming regularly in the morning the following day.

PATASKALA.

Leslie Lisle of Columbus, came out Saturday to visit with Dr. Jas. Lisle and family.

Miss Lucie Smith left Saturday for Portsmouth to spend Sunday with her sister, Mrs. Joseph Turley. Mrs. Turley will return to Pataskala with her on Monday to spend several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Binner Thomas of Westerville, spent Sunday with Mrs. Mrs. Thomas' mother here.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Finkbone of Kirtlandville attended the ball game here Saturday.

The Fourth will be celebrated here by two ball games between the Columbus Brownies and the Pataskala team. Some novelty attractions will help to fill up.

Mr. Herbert Osborn and bride called on his grandfather here Sunday.

grounds of wilful absence and desertion, and his wife filed a cross-petition upon similar grounds. She won the suit.

Batavia—Frank Robinson, aged 42 a drug clerk, was found dead in bed from an overdose of morphine. He made an unsuccessful attempt to take his life about a year ago.

Upper Sandusky—For the first time in forty years this city has experienced a beer famine. A large cask at the brewery sprung a leak and allowed several thousand gallons of the amber fluid to escape. The cask contained "present use beer," and when the saloons opened there was no beer to be had for love or money. The town was as dry as tinder in consequence until noon yesterday, when a rush order for 200 kegs came up from Marion.

Zanesville—A mad dog scare of unusual severity is being experienced here. Last week a mad dog was chased the entire length of the city by the police and was only killed after biting two children and dogs and animals innumerable. Monday three of the dogs bitten went mad and were not killed until they had bitten several others. The boys bitten last week are being treated at the Pasteur Institute in Chicago.

HAVE A TOOTH

It's been troubling you this long while. Perhaps it's partly decayed. A slight cold starts it aching furiously. The tooth next to it may be becoming decayed because of its decaying neighbor. The best thing for you to do is to let me examine your teeth. If they need filling I will tell you so. If it be best to extract or if a cap will save the tooth I will tell you that. Whatever your teeth need I will do it for you—do it painlessly, too. This is something I guarantee.

REV. M. L. BATES

WHO WILL SOON LEAVE FOR WARREN, OHIO.

Elders of the Fourth Street Church of Christ a Committee to Select His Successor.

As was announced in the Advocate some time ago Rev. M. L. Bates has resigned the pastorate of the Fourth street Church of Christ, and in September he will take up his residence at Warren, Ohio, as pastor of the Warren church, which has a membership about double the membership of the

REV. M. L. BATES.

Newark church, and it is expected that a second church will be organized and housed next year. The work will in many respects be heavier and more difficult than the work in Newark has been.

The relationship between Mr. Bates and the Newark church has been unusually close and tender and there is universal regret among the church members over his decision to leave this charge. Ninety-three per cent of the present membership has been received in the six years Mr. Bates has been in Newark. Ever active, loyal and able, Mr. Bates, an intellectual and popular man leaves a vacancy that will be hard to fill. The elders constitute a committee to secure Mr. Bates' successor.

Mrs. Williams, wife of David Williams, the well-known B. & O. brakeman, is sick with exhaustion at her home on Andover street.

Grandfather Shea is quite sick at his home, 141 Pataskala street.

After having been quite sick for some days, H. G. Peters is able to be around again.

BARCLAY-LONGSHORE WEDDING.

Mr. George E. Barclay and Mrs. Louise Longshore, both of Hebron this county, were married on Monday evening. The ceremony took place in the office of the Probate Judge, and was performed by Squire A. J. Crilly in an up-to-date manner. The ceremony was witnessed by quite a number of the Court House habitués, who, at the conclusion of the ceremony, extended their congratulations to the newly wedded couple.

The FACE OF A MARQUISE

At the masquerade a marquise of the time of Louis XIV. dined by Julian Chestwick and disappeared in the throng. He haunted the rooms like an unquiet spirit all the evening, until people began to believe that the Hungaria prince was a ubiquity, but the face shone upon him no more.

"Do you want to marry Miss Pearlfield?" asked his uncle, a choleric old gentleman who was particularly fond of two things in this world—port and his own way.

"No," said Julian recklessly.

"And what the deuce is the reason?"

"Because I love somebody else."

"Whom?"

Julian looked awkward. He could not very well say "a face," so he said nothing at all, and in consequence thereof his uncle went home in a passion and altered his will.

Miss Pearlfield married somebody else, and Julian Chestwick worshipped at the shrine of the oval face, contented with its remembered smiles as they haunted his dream.

"I shall see her some day," he told himself, "and until then I will wait."

When Field Pakenham invited him down to a Christmas party at Pakenham Court, Chestwick hesitated. In New York his chances of realizing the dream of his lifetime were as five to one compared to any other place, and yet he was too good a chess player not to comprehend that the tide of luck needs a change now and then.

Chestwick's eye roved from face to face as he took his seat at the long table in the antique old dining room at Pakenham Court. There were blonds and brunettes, and blue eyes and gray, scraggy throats and dimpled shoulders, but there was no look or feature in all the gay assemblage which might suggest the French marquise.

But Lucia Dallas took him in hand and made him talk whether he was willing or no.

"It's all nonsense about your being a Diogenes," said that young lady. "Where are your tub and your lantern?"

"They're coming down by the next train."

"Well, then, until they come I shall make the most of you. Do you dance?"

"No."

"Do you sing?"

"No."

"Do you flirt?"

"No."

"Are you fond of pictures?"

"Yes. Did you bring your album?"

"No; I was thinking of the old picture gallery up stairs. Only imagine it—the portraits of the Pakenham ancestry for 200 years back!"

The Pakenham picture gallery was well worth seeing. A long, lofty room, lighted by a dome of glass, it reminded one of some old baronial hall in England.

"I prefer the future to the past," said he briefly.

And then, turning, his eye fell upon a pictured face which thrilled him through and through, a dimpled, smiling face with black eyes which seemed to melt and glow, even against the opaqueness of the meaningless canvas, a mouth full of arch expression and a dress of the time of Louis Quatorze.

"Field," he said, turning to his host, with features as pale as if they had been carved in ivory, "who is that lady?"

"Who was she, you mean," laughed Pakenham. "Why, you know, she's been dead these 200 years."

Chestwick felt an odd, icy tremble through his veins. Was he then in love with a ghost?

"It is Marie de Roubise of Normandy, afterward married to Gerald Pakenham, who died two years after her marriage—my great-great-grandmother—and a very good looking woman too," added Field, rather irreverently.

Chestwick had taken his seat at dinner in a mechanical sort of way when a young lady glided into the seat opposite.

"Merciful fate!" he ejaculated, half starting from his place. "Marie de Roubise!"

"Hold your tongue," whispered Field, dragging him back into his chair. "It's only my cousin, Marquerita Leslie. Stop staring and let me introduce you like a Christian."

And as Pakenham spoke their names to each other Julian Chestwick found himself looking directly into the lively dark eyes of the radiant marquise of the days of Louis Quatorze.

"I never thought of it before," said Pakenham, "but she does look like the portrait of our French ancestors."

"I dressed like it for a masquerade ball in New York last winter," laughed Marquerita herself, "and you would have fancied I had just stepped out of the frame."

The riddle was solved at last. Chestwick's heart grew light as a feather within his breast, and life became a possibility of brightness once more.

When he went away from Pakenham Court, Marquerita Leslie had promised to become his wife.

"It's a very short acquaintance, though," observed Miss Leslie.

"No, it isn't. It's a very long one," said Julian earnestly. And then he told her how, when and where he had first fallen in love with her.

"Dear me! I didn't know there was so much constancy in man!" was her answer.

Wood In Germany.

The total annual production of timber and firewood of the German forests is estimated at 38,000,000 tons, and this is supplemented by an import of 4,600,000 tons. The material progress of the country would not be possible had it not the large home production to fall back upon.

FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

Menace of Impure Water.

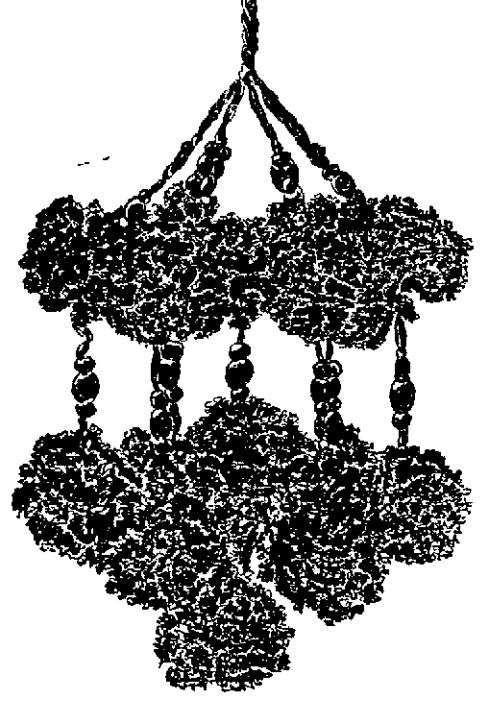

A report of Professor F. L. Washburn, geologist of the University of Oregon, on drinking water was recently published in the Portland Oregonian. The following introductory remarks of Professor Washburn are here published, as they are applicable to other sections besides Oregon:

"Probably there is no greater menace to public health than our ignorance of the character of the water which we drink. If it be clear and tasteless, we remark upon its excellence. Even if it is discolored or odoriferous from time to time we endure it and make no special effort to examine it scientifically or the environments of its source—well or reservoir or river or brook, as the case may be. Many a landowner in Oregon has his barn and outhouses on a slope below his dwelling house and about 40 feet, more or less, from the latter. At a greater or less distance from his back door we find a dug well, and he imagines, overlooking the regrettable fact that slops are often thrown out of said door, that the barn being on a level below his well, there can be no drainage whatever from his various outhouses into the source of his water supply. He does not realize that while Mother Earth smiles at him on the surface she may be playing him an ugly trick below the surface, for, notwithstanding the aforesaid slope, we may find and frequently do find the strata arranged in such a way that there is drainage from the barn toward the house.

"It is evident that under these conditions there will be seepage from the barn toward the well, and the water of the latter will be contaminated."

Pompon Fix Rest.

This pretty and very ornamental fix rest of crinkled paper can be made in any color to match the room. The foundation consists of a piece of cardboard cut as a six pointed star eight inches in diameter. Cover the star on the upper side with paper cut the shape of the cardboard, but wider, and gummed or pasted down underneath. The underside is covered with a piece of crinkled paper. In the center of each point of the star, one inch in, make small holes, then prepare the rosettes. Eight entire roses are required for the pendants and 14 half rosettes for trimming the top and under edges of the star, the entire rosettes consisting of strips of paper 2 1/4 inches wide by half a yard long, while the half rosettes require the same width, but only about one-quarter yard in length. Run a strong thread through the center of each strip and draw it up tight, twisting it as you go along, when it will shape itself into a kind of pompon. The half rosettes are sewed to the center of the star, top and bottom and either side of the points, from the center of each outer rosette being a double gold thread cut 11 inches long, folded through the center, and then an inch from the cut edge make a knot, thread on three beads, the two outer ones being round and pale brown and the center one an oblong amber bead, and above these make another knot to keep the beads in place. Then unite all the sections with gold cords strung with beads.

LITTLE BOY HURT.

William, the little son of Mr. Frank Smith, Secretary of Union Association of Retail Lumber Dealers, met with a painful accident Monday. His father had purchased a pistol and a lot of blank cartridges, as he is of a very patriotic turn of mind, and the Fourth. In handling the cartridges he accidentally exploded one of them, filling his thigh with powder.

Budget of Local Personal Notes and News Items Concerning Railway Men of Newark.

The Pittsburg Post says: In the future all fast passenger engines on the Pennsylvania system are to be equipped with steel-tired tank and boggy wheels. All engines now in use with cast iron or cast steel tires on tank trucks and pony wheels are being called in and the steel tired wheels attached. The driving wheels have always had steel tires with cast steel centers, and it has been found that the steel-tired wheel lasts longer, is safer and more reliable under all conditions than the cast steel or cast iron wheel.
The steel tires substituted are subjected to the most rigid tests, and the manner of fastening them to the wheel center proper is of the most approved design, guaranteeing that they can not become loose. On a fast express engine all depends upon the tires and flanges. The one and one-half inch of metal on the front tire is all that intervenes between the passengers and death. In case of a derailment of the engine truck everything is piled up in an instant. On the contrary if a driving wheel leaves the rail it is liable to run for some distance on the ties and the first jar is a warning to the engineer to stop. In case the front trucks leave the rails he has no time to do anything. There have been cases where an engine ran for several hundred feet on the ties with all the drivers off the rails. Car trucks have been dragged with the wheels on the ties for half a mile without any great damage. The front wheels of the engine are the greatest and most important factors of safety, and the tank wheel's must also be considered as being almost of equal importance. The Pennsylvania proposes to take no chances, and all front trucks and tank trucks as well as driving wheels and trailing wheels on engines of the Pennsylvania system used for hauling fast trains will hereafter have steel tires of the most approved type.

HURT NEAR VANATTA.

An Italian named Mayo, an employee of the B. & O. railroad company, met with a serious accident. He was at work on a switch near Vanatta, several miles north of this place, when he was struck by the pilot of a passing engine. He was knocked from the track and when picked up it was found that both bones of the right forearm had been broken at the wrist and near the elbow; that his right collar bone had been fractured and that he was otherwise seriously injured. He was brought here and taken to the City Hospital where his injuries were attended to by Dr. Legge.

PROCEEDINGS

IN COMMON PLEAS AND PROBATE
COURTS

Mrs. Atherton's Answer and Cross
Petition for Divorce—Damage Suit
Realty Transfers.

Mrs. Ida Patrick has commenced suit in the Common Pleas court to recover $300 damages from the B. & O.
R. R. company, she claiming that the land belonged to her.

Appointment.

Robert Haines has been appointed administrator of the estate of Jennie Haines, deceased.

Mrs. Atherton's Answer.

Monday afternoon Mrs. Catherine Atherton by her attorneys Kibler & Kibler, filed her answer and cross petition to Mayor Atherton's divorce petition in the Court of Common Pleas.
Mrs. Atherton admits that on June 1, 1900, when the Mayor broke open the door of her home, she struck him once lightly, with an umbrella. She acknowledges the deed to her by the Mayor of certain property, but claims that it was by the free will of her husband, and not for the purpose of satisfying the craving of the defendant.
The other allegations made are all denied. She claims that the plaintiff by the unauthorized use of her name, procured from the Homestead Building, Savings and Loan Company $600 of her money upon certain certificates of paid up stock in that company, the property and in the name of the defendant, and converted the same to his own use. She charges the plaintiff with gross neglect of duty in failure to provide her either with food or clothing, neglecting her in sickness, and in absenting himself from home for days and nights. She claims that about December 5, 1895, the plaintiff left his home and went to Los Angeles, Cal., where by appointment he met a certain woman and from there went to San Francisco and at those places committed adultery with the said woman, the two passing as man and wife. She charges him with adultery with a woman in Columbus, claiming that he makes almost weekly visits to that city for that purpose. She alleges other acts of infidelity and claims that plaintiff communicated to her a disease from which she suffered for months. Mrs. Atherton alleges cruelty and willful abandonment and asks for a divorce and alimony.

Probate Court.

In the Probate Court today James Daughtery, aged 13, charged with stealing a bicycle, was sentenced to five days' imprisonment in jail.

Jacob Phillips, charged with making an assault on his brother, John Phillips, was fined $10 and given ten days

POLITICAL
Questions Discussed by Ohio Men at a Social and Political Conference at Detroit.

Detroit, July 1.—Despite the oppressive heat the session of the National Social and Political conference was better attended than any preceding one. Ex-Congressman John J. Lentz of Ohio was the first speaker, discussing "Should Political Reforms Precede Social and Economic Reform?" Mr. Lentz said: "Political reform must precede social and economic reforms, for at present political parties are not organized as reform forces. With the machines of each party ready to commit any crime to secure preferment and power, there is no hope to secure any reform from them. We must educate the masses." Mayor Jones of Toledo had for his subject "Are Political Parties Necessary or Are They Obstacles to Progress?" In the evening "Best Methods and What Can Be Done With Them" formed the theme of discussion, and Hon. Frank S. Monnett of Ohio was the principal speaker.

HOSPITAL SHIP MAINE.

London, July 2.—Announcement was made by Earl Selborne in the house of lords that the hospital ship Maine, which was fitted out by a committee of American women for the use of the wounded and sick in South Africa and which was subsequently sent to Taku, where she took on board wounded and sick men of various nationalities, had been presented as a free gift to the British navy. The Earl of Selborne read a letter from President Bernard Baker of the Atlantic Transport company, offering the Maine, and also read the government's reply accepting the ship. Lord Selborne added that the women of the Maine committee had donated the ship's hospital fittings. This gift of citizens and women of the United States was most gracious. Lord Spencer concurred. He said they all appreciated the gift very highly, not only on account of the ship herself, but as a sign of the cordial relations and good feeling existing between the people of the United States and Great Britain.

CASHIER

Of a Suspended Bank Surrendered to the Authorities Down in Birmingham, Ala.

Birmingham, Ala., July 2.—Burgess Little, formerly cashier of the Shelby County bank at Montevallo, Ala., came to Birmingham and surrendered himself to Sheriff Burgin and was released on $1,000 bond. The Shelby County bank recently closed its doors and it was alleged that Little had embezzled $10,000 of the bank's funds. Mr. Little declined to make any statement for publication other than to say he came of his own volition and surrendered to the authorities.

Bussey Sentenced to Hang.
Camden, Ark., July 2.—Circuit Judge C. W. Smith overruled the application for a new trial in the case of Will Bussey, colored, under sentence to hang for criminal assault. Governor Davis recently granted a reprieve of 30 days in order to allow judicial action following the confession of Mrs. Tom Watson, the prosecuting witness, that she testified falsely against Bussey at the behest of her husband. Judge Smith set Aug. 3 for the execution. An appeal will be taken to the supreme court.

Arrival of Pingree's Remains.
New York, July 2.—The remains of former Governor Hazen S. Pingree of Michigan arrived on the steamship Zealandia. With the body came Hazen S. Pingree, Jr., who accompanied his father to England. The body was taken from the ship and removed to an undertaker's shop until arrangements are made to forward it to Detroit. Frank S. Pingree, brother of the late Mr. Pingree, Mayor William H. Maybury of Detroit and R. G. Solomon of Newark were at the wharf to meet the Zealandia.

Miss Ella Warrington, a well known young lady, who resides with her parents on the Mt. Vernon road, just north of the city, was taken, violently sick some time during Monday night, and wandered from the house. She was found in the yard where she had fallen. Her head was badly cut from coming in contact with a large stone, and she was unconscious. She was carried into the house and medical assistance at once secured. Her sickness seemed to be due to exhaustion from the heat.

HORSE DIED

Overcome by the Heat, the Animal Fell in the Road, and Soon After Expired.

For some time past teamsters have been engaged in hauling ties from the vicinity of Perryton, about sixteen miles east of Newark, to a point on the Columbus, Buckeye Lake and Newark railroad, west of Newark. On Monday evening about 7 o'clock one of the teamsters was hauling a load of ties and had got opposite Idlewild park when one of the horses, which was overcome by the heat, dropped down in the road. The horse was unable to sweat, and as a consequence, died in a few minutes, all efforts to help him being unavailing.

Paternalism.
"What do you think of this idea of government ownership of everything?" "I don't like it," answered the apprehensive citizen. "It's paternalism." "And paternalism is particularly objectionable to you?" "Yes, sir. I have the highest admiration and respect for this government, and when I think of the superior ways of young people who have just been educated I must say I don't want to see it treated like a father."—Washington Star.

Relief at Chicago.
Chicago, July 2.—Five persons dropped dead on the streets in Chicago from excessive heat and 15 others were so badly overcome that they had to be removed to hospitals. Some of the prostrated are in a serious condition and may die. The temperature in the weather bureau in the auditorium tower was 92 and on the streets over 100. A severe thunderstorm brought relief and the mercury dropped 20 degrees.

THE KING.
BY BARRY PAIN.

Mr. Wilfred Camp thought that a walking tour would be a good thing. One night a week later, at about 10 o'clock, he found himself lost on a Yorkshire moor. His feet were weary; his new knapsack was heavy; his road map was all wrong; he was thirsty and sleepy. In this condition he was extremely glad to sight at last a very small cottage with a light burning in the window. That meant a rest and a direction. There would also be something in the way of supper. Wilfred quickened his steps and knocked gently on the door of the cottage.

The door was opened, considerably to Wilfred's surprise, by a gaunt old gentleman in evening dress. Wilfred had expected a peasant, but he pulled himself together and told his story and made his requests as well as he could. "You are the second stranger that has called here within these 20 years," said the old gentleman. "I came here to be out of the world, which had ceased to want me, and yet the world drifts in. But do not let me seem ungracious. Such hospitality as I am able to offer is entirely at your service. Pray come in."

The old man led the way into a small book lined living room. "I must tell you," he added, "that I have no servant, live by myself and am accustomed to do everything for myself. You will excuse any shortcomings."

For the life of him Wilfred could not help his glance straying to that perfect shirt front. "Yes, I know," said the old gentleman. "It does seem inconsistent. It is an old habit. Let us hope that it may help me to act as your waiter with a skill that shall not lag too far behind my good will or the part. Please be seated and excuse me for a few moments while I prepare supper for you."

Wilfred's offer of assistance was declined, and an excellent and simple meal was soon ready. It was only when he had finished the omelet and was pouring out the last glass of the old burgundy that his curiosity got the better of his appetite and his discretion. He tried a leading question. "Certainly," said the old gentleman, with a courteous smile, as he handed the cigar box. "It is natural that you should be asking yourself who this amiable lunatic may be. Potentially I am king of the world. Born in the right age and in the right stage of civilization—or, if you prefer it, barbarism—I should unquestionably have been the king of the world. The iron, scientific, conventional, civilized world of today is too strong for me. When you contend against it, it gives you seven years' penal servitude. I myself have done seven years' penal servitude."

"You are jesting, of course," said Wilfred Camp.

"I never jest. There is little dignity in it. I was fellow of my college at the time of the sentence, many years ago. When I came out, my relatives and a few friends were ready with advice, penitential gibberish and forgiveness. Others were ready to despise or mistrust. I could not understand the point of view of any of them. You see, I am at heart a king, one to whom forgiveness or contempt must be purely ridiculous. To myself, and no other, can I ever be answerable. Obviously a world of men and women of the type that is spawned nowadays was no place for me. I came out of it. I am alone, and I am the king, the king in exile, the king without a kingdom. Chance cannot affect that. It moves me from my right epoch and sets me down in a vulgar generation with absurd ideas that cannot understand me. Briefly, it denies me my kingdom, but can do no more. No, I am stronger than chance there. I am, in myself and all through myself, a king unalterably."

The old man's eyes glittered, and his manner was rapidly becoming more excited. Mr. Wilfred Camp was as rapidly becoming very nervous.

"I'm afraid," he said, "you find my visit a terrible intrusion. I was, as you saw, the victim of circumstances, but I thank you for your hospitality and will not trespass on it further. If you could kindly direct me to Vennersley—"

The old man looked away from him and muttered, as if to himself, "Two in 20 years." Then he suddenly turned to him again, raising his voice. "Address me properly, and on your knees."

Wilfred was down on his knees at once. "May it please your majesty to permit me to retire?"

"Very well. You will walk backward until you reach the door. On leaving the house you will not run unless you wish my dogs to run after you. I shall not direct you on your way, for then you might return. You will get lost again. The other stranger got buried. You are kneeling on his grave at this moment. Out before I change my mind!"

Wilfred Camp rose and backed to ward the door. As he reached it the madman made a rush at him, and he turned and ran. He neither saw nor heard anything of the dogs. At a little distance he took one look back at the cottage. The madman stood in the doorway, waving his knife and shouting: "I am the king of the world! I am the king!"

It was dawn when he reached, by chance, the highroad. Some days afterward an organized attempt was made to find the cottage, but with no success. So some think Camp's story untrue; others, that if it had been a lie it would have put him in a less ignominious position.—Black and White.

Constitution Defeated.

Newport, R. I., July 2.—The Constitution was defeated by the Columbia by the small margin of 48 seconds in the first real race in which the new Herreshoff yacht has participated. Although the contest from start to finish was close and at times exciting, in the opinion of a majority of yachtsmen in Newport the Constitution lost through misfortune. However the result of the contest is far from conclusive and there is still much to be decided as to the relative merits of the two racers.

COAL COMBINE SECOND TO STEEL TRUST IN MAGNITUDE

Will Control Bituminous Mines in Ohio and Adjoining States—Morgan the Master Mind.

Cleveland, O., July 2.—As telegraphed the Advocate from New York yesterday, J. P. Morgan, it is said, soon after his return home will consolidate the bituminous coal interests of Ohio and adjoining states. Authentic reports are in circulation to the effect that the combine will be effected within two months.

This projected coal combination will be similar to the United States Steel corporation. The capitalization will probably be second only to that of the big steel trust. As an auxiliary to this movement being carried on by the promoters of one constituent company of the greater organization, a complete pool of all the retail soft coal interests in Cleveland will be effected within the next 10 days, for which preliminary steps have been taken.

J. P. Morgan, the advocate of the coalition, started in with his coal combinations three years ago, making the first movements along the line of controlling the products of Ohio and West Virginia. At that time he obtained control of the mining property in the Hocking and Shawnee valleys. In order to give an outlet for this coal he purchased certain railroad properties, and this started the combination mania along the line of railroad ownership which has gone to extraordinary lengths. The proceedings in the present combination are similar to those displayed in the formation of the steel trust. A year ago all of the coal properties in the Pittsburgh district were collected into one organization known as the Pittsburgh Coal company. About the same time the same interests which ship coal down the river formed what has since been known as the Monongahela Coal company, each being a combination of smaller companies, making an organization of considerable importance. The desire to control other coal territory in the same fashion, that the larger companies might be easier handled by Mr. Morgan, has led to the selection in certain sections of confidential agents.

An organization was made in Chicago 10 days ago known as the Illinois Coal company. About the same time it became generally known that M. A. Hanna and others had about completed the absorption of most of the coal properties in the Massillon district. This is expected to be completed in the next 10 days. The Pittsburgh coal production is virtually owned by one company, the Fairmount Coal company, which in turn is the property of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad.

Now the Illinois Coal company, the Pittsburgh Coal company, the Monongahela Coal company, the Fairmount Coal company, the Hocking Coal company and the Massillon Coal company are all to be collected into one big organization, the name of which has not been selected. All of these will be operated from one general office, with auxiliary offices in the vicinity of the property and with one general lake shipping office in Cleveland. It is expected the Pittsburgh Coal company will be the central figure around which the others are grouped.

Along with this organization will go also the coal docks and fast loading plants owned by the various coal companies which shall hereafter make a part of the big organization. This will include those which are located along Lake Erie and also on the upper lake ports.

The aim of all this is to effect a complete monopoly of the bituminous coal production in the territory east of the Mississippi and north of the Ohio. To the accomplishment of this end Mr. Morgan is said to have given himself without reserve and will take it up when he returns from Europe.

Lacked a Leader.

Lancaster, O., July 2.—John Holmes, the negro who took the 15-year-old daughter of E. T. Horne from home, was arrested and brought to the city. Cool heads and strategy prevented serious trouble and Holmes was locked in jail in default of $1,000 bond, charged with assault. His preliminary trial was fixed for July 9. The jail is guarded. A leader only was necessary to have attempted to lynch Holmes.

Price of Linseed Oil Goes Up.

Cleveland, July 2.—Another sharp advance was announced in prices for linseed oil by the American Linseed Oil company. The wholesale price is now 80 cents per gallon in single barrel lots, an increase of 15 cents per gallon since June 1. This jump in prices was 7 cents per gallon. The increase for the last month has been about 25 per cent.

White Man Turned Yellow.

Great consternation was felt by the friends of M. A. Hogarty of Lexington, Ky., when they saw he was turning yellow. His skin slowly changed color, also his eyes, and he suffered terribly. His malady was Yellow Jaundice. He was treated by the best doctors, but without benefit. Then he was advised to try Electric Bitters, the wonderful Stomach and Liver remedy, and he writes: "After taking two bottles I was wholly cured." A trial proves its matchless merit for all Stomach, Liver and Kidney troubles. Only 50c. Sold at Hall's drug store.

SENATOR KYLE DEAD.

Aberdeen, S. D., July 2.—Senator James Kyle died Monday evening after an illness of 10 days. He had rallied to quite an extent from his first attack and hopes were entertained of his recovery, although at no time was he considered wholly out of danger. Symptoms of bright's disease developed and Sunday his condition became less favorable.

SENATOR J. H. KYLE.

grew rapidly worse and Monday morning all hope was given up, his death being only a question of a few hours. His wife is prostrated with grief and is inconsolable. They have two children, a daughter, Ethelwyn, about 15, and a baby boy. The city is in mourning, for Senator Kyle was highly esteemed.

Arkansas Freight Rate Ruling. Little Rock, July 2.—Federal Judge Triebor issued a perpetual and interlocutory decree against the Arkansas railroad commission, restraining it from making and enforcing through ratings provided for in the standard freight distance tariff adopted by the commission April, 1900. It is announced that the commission will appeal to United States court of appeals.

Arsenic in the Soup. Toledo, July 2.—The city chemist reported that he had discovered a large quantity of arsenic in the muton soup which caused the illness of Arthur Miller, his wife and five children several weeks ago. The police claim that it was an attempt to murder the family and are investigating the case.

Jockey's Mishap. Chicago, July 2.—The jockey Coburn had his leg broken while at the post for a race at Washington park. He had the mount on Emma C. L. A horse whirled suddenly and crushed the boy's foot. He fainted and was carried to the paddock. He will be kept out of the saddle for some time.

PREPARING TO SQUAT.

Denison, Tex., July 2.—A company of Texas, Indian Territory and Oklahoma men has been formed to make a rush for the lands of the Kiowa and Comanche country when they are opened to settlement. They have employed Richard Morgan of Perry, O. T., as counsel, and if necessary will fight their case in the courts. They have been given legal opinions that the Kiowa and Comanche country has been purchased by the government; that it is public domain and open for settlement by the citizens of the United States, that it can only be subject to the homestead laws of the United States and that the homestead laws provide but one means of selecting homes, and that is to move on a claim, stake it off and own it as a homestead, and that there is no provision in law for selecting claims by drawing lots.

Goes to Supreme Court. Denver, July 2.—Judge Hallett of the United States district court denied a writ of habeas corpus to E. H. Reid, the Omaha cattle shipper, who was sentenced to six months' imprisonment by the district court of Arapahoe county for failure to pay the state inspection fee on a shipment of cattle from Texas. An appeal was taken to the United States supreme court and Reid was released on $500 bond. In refusing to pay the state fee Reid was acting as agent for the National Live Stock association, which desires a decision by the supreme court on the question involved that will apply to all states.

Odd Fellows' Hall Destroyed. Garrett, Ind., July 2.—The 2-story Odd Fellows' hall was practically destroyed by an explosion. The lower floor was occupied by Peters & Little, hardware, and the upper story by the Odd Fellows. The building caught fire from the gasoline plant and the flash frightened the proprietor and some of the other men from the store. The gasoline tank exploded, destroying the building. Several were injured, none seriously. Loss $7,000.

Molten Metal Exploded. Chicago, July 2.—Three tons of molten iron, which exploded with terrific force in the plant of the Illinois steel work at South Chicago, instantly killed John Kabo and injured several other employees. The explosion, which was caused by a ladle of molten iron overturning in a blast furnace, tore nearly 100 feet of the walls away and broke the windows in other buildings adjoining.

Nebraska Drouth Broken. Lincoln, Neb., July 2.—An inch and a quarter of rain fell here, breaking the long drouth and causing a fall of temperature of nearly 40 degrees. All of southeastern Nebraska received a good wetting, three inches falling in some towns. The rain is of inestimable value to the growing corn, which was withering.

London, July 2.—The Earl of Morley, chairman of the committee in the house of lords, announced that the trial of Earl Russell by the house of lords on the charge of bigamy will begin July 18 in the royal gallery, under the presidency of the lord high steward, the Earl of Pembroke.

Run on Malvern Bank. Canal Dover, O., July 2.—A run was started on the Sandville bank of Malvern, caused by the failure of the Connoton Valley bank of Sherrodsville. The Malvern bank claims it is able to meet all demands.

Killed on the Track. Bowling Green, O., July 2.—William McIntire, 34, stepped from one track to another to avoid an approaching train and was struck by a train going in the opposite direction.

BRING TEMPORARY RELIEF TO PERSPIRING HUMANITY.

Tropical Temperature Not Over—Further Reports of the Big Heat Wave of Monday.

Washington, July 2.—From all parts of the country come gratifying reports that the torrid temperature has been at last interrupted by refreshing rains. The maximum temperature here was 102 degrees, resulting in three deaths.

Some of the high temperatures reported to the weather bureau were: Atlanta, 90 degrees; Atlantic City, 90; Boston, 92; Chicago, 92; Cincinnati, 92; Davenport, Ia., 96; Des Moines, 96; Indianapolis, 92; Jacksonville, Fla., 94; Kansas City, 100; Little Rock, 90; Memphis, 92; New Orleans, 90; New York, 98; Omaha, 94; Philadelphia, 102; Pittsburgh, 98; Salt Lake, 92; St. Louis, 100; St. Paul, 90; Springfield, Ills., 96; Vicksburg, 90.

The hot wave started in the west June 20 and high temperatures are recorded in most sections east of the Rocky mountains and many places west of the Rockies. Rains have fallen in many places, the precipitation being very great in Chicago, Jacksonville, Fla., Omaha, Neb., and Davenport, Ia. Thunderstorms were reported from West Virginia, Iowa and the lower lake region. Relief is at hand in the middle Mississippi valley, the lower Missouri valley, the upper lake region, and by Wednesday in the Ohio valley and possibly the western part of the lower lake region.

Reports received by the weather bureau seem to favor a continuation of torrid conditions at New York, with no immediate prospect of relief.

William R. Scholl, an employee of the agricultural department, while overheated took a cold bath and placed a lump of ice on his head, resulting in congestion of the brain, of which he died in a very short time.

New York Fairly Blistered.

New York, July 2.—Monday was the hottest July 1 on record. The thermometer at the weather office reached 98 degrees, one degree hotter than the preceding day. The records show that only two days in the last 30 years had a higher temperature, July 9, 1876, and July 3, 1898, when the thermometer reached 99 degrees. Between 2 a. m. and midnight there were reported 57 deaths and 141 prostrations in the boroughs of Manhattan and the Bronx. From midnight to 10 p. m. 21 deaths and 36 prostrations had been reported in Brooklyn. Although the weather bureau shows the maximum was 98, this does not indicate the heat on the streets. Many thermometers registered 108 and all over the city it was 100 on the street level. Suffering was intense in the tenement district. At 2 o'clock Tuesday morning the death record for the 24 hours ending at that time in Greater New York was 87, the prostrations 183. For the last five days, covering the present heated term, the total deaths in the same territory were 136.

Pittsburg Like a Furnace.

Pittsburg, July 2.—Pittsburg was a veritable furnace all day. From sunrise until long after dusk there was no cessation in the terrible heat. All previous records were broken and the death rate was more than doubled. Infants and aged people succumbed alike and the suffering among all classes was intense. Many mills closed down entirely and on all relief shifts were constantly in readiness replace those who could no longer stand the heat. The maximum was 98. Among the poorer classes the suffering was intense. Between the hours of 7 a. m. and midnight 18 deaths in Pittsburg and Allegheny were recorded, and 40 prostrations.

Storm at Cincinnati.

Cincinnati, July 2.—The spell of torrid heat which held sway here during the past week and which left death and prostration in its wake was broken by a squall. The storm came suddenly from the southeast and for a time blew at the rate of 60 miles an hour. This was followed by a thunder shower and the thermometer dropped to 73. It was a merciful relief. The storm played havoc with telephone and telegraph wires. The maximum temperature was 96 at the government observation station and 99 on the street. There were five deaths from heat.

Three Deaths at Cleveland.

Cleveland, July 2.—The highest temperature recorded by the weather bureau was 92. At night a heavy wind came from the west and cooled the atmosphere considerably. Three deaths occurred from heat and 18 prostrations. The dead ones: William Reichel of Cleveland; James Krueger, a farmer of Orange township; and Owen McGowan, of Buffalo.

Tornadoes in Iowa.

Des Moines, July 2.—Tornadoes are reported near Holstein, Cambridge and other Iowa points.

Prize Eating Contest.

"They had an eating contest the other night at Pin Hook school house." "Who won?" "Ben Slutters—he ate nine head of cabbage." "Didn't it make him sick?" "No. He just took a spoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. That prevents stomach trouble of any kind they say." At Johnson's and Hall's drug stores.

"Down Town" Improvements.

Improvements are going on all around us both in the city and outside. Newark is booming and every body has faith in its future. One of the "down town" improvements is on Hoovers Street where Gil O. Daugherty has a number of lots centrally located which he is selling at suburban prices. He is laying water mains and building an eight inch sewer for the benefit of his lots, several of these lots have been sold and three fine residences with all modern conveniences are in course of erection. Other residences soon to begin. These lots are "down town" and are on the line of sewer, city water, natural gas and electric light service. They are cheap at $600 and can be bought for $400.

The Directors of the Security Building and Loan Company.

Ever mindful of the fact that the profits of a building company are derived from its borrowers, have had the steady purpose in view to favor this class, as far as consistent with business principles. They are the pioneers of low interest to borrowers, which they have accomplished by keeping expenses down to the lowest possible point. They give the borrowers a plain contract, any one can understand, and reduce the interest of tenner than any other association in the country. If you want money at the lowest rate of interest, call on us. Office with Water Works Company.

OF HIGH SCHOOL PRINCIPAL FRI-DAY NIGHT.

Owing to Absence of Two Members School Board Monday Night Postponed Election.

Owing to the absence of two members, Messrs. S. W. Haight and William Christian, the Newark Board of Education did not take up the matter of electing a principal of the high school Monday evening, further than to informally discuss the election. Mr.
Hoyt, of Randolph, N. Y., one of the 35 applicants for the position of principal, was present and briefly addressed the Board.

Those present at the meeting were Messrs. Henderson, Beatty, Rilton, Hoover, Stasel and Keller. In the absence of both the president and vice president, Mr. John Fulton was called to the chair.

After the approval of the minutes and allowance of several bills, a number of unimportant communications were read and the committee on buildings was authorized to have the large willow tree in the high school yard removed. The member in charge of the Mill street building was authorized to repair the steps at that building and to make certain other minor improvements about the school house yard.

Truant Officer Jones submitted his usual monthly report.

The Board adjourned to meet on Friday night to take up the election of a principal for the high school.

Farmers' Cheap Fertilizers.

Cowpeas are raised more and more every season in the north, and they are rapidly becoming the farmer's cheap fertilizer, says W. E. Edwards in American Cultivator. They are crowding out clover in this respect, and they will eventually make our farming far more profitable. Cowpeas furnish nearly twice as much forage for live stock as clover, and when harvested they leave the field in better condition for other crops. Moreover, cowpeas will grow on land which is unsuitable for clover and where many grain crops only sparingly grow. Stock likes cowpeas and will sometimes eat them in preference to the best clover hay, and I think they will show up as good results from any point of view as a continuous food.

Overfeeding Fowls.

Among the consequences of overfeeding getting the fowl too fat for proper egg production does not stand alone.
Hens may be found dead under the roosts in the morning or perhaps on the nests as if there to lay, as usually they were, as is shown by the eggs they have in them. The cause is apoplexy, which is the result of overfeeding and lack of exercise. Another hen manifests the same disease by suddenly running round in a circle or staggering in a crooked fashion across the yard until she drops stupid and soon dies. It may be called vertigo or staggers, but it is a result of too much or too rich food and not an indication that someone has given her poison.

The Farm Separator.

Those who believe in the farm separator say that having the skim milk at home to feed to calves and pigs while it is warm and sweet is equal to 1½ or 2½ cents extra value for the pound of butter, while the cost of hauling to the creamery is so reduced as to add about another 1½ cents to the butter value, and the factories average about 1.15 cents less in cost of butter making when they get only the cream than when they have to separate it from the whole milk before churning. A gain of from 3.15 to 4.15 cents a pound in value of butter from the milk is an important item.

BERTHA STOFFER

Daughter of Harry Stouffer of Tenth Street, Died at Noon—Funeral
Not Arranged.

Miss Bertha, the bright daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stouffer, died at the home of her parents, on Tenth street about noon today, after an illness of some time with heart trouble.
The deceased was a young lady aged about 14 years, and had many friends in Newark who will greatly mourn her death. She was a member of the First M. E. church of this city, and was a thorough Christian. At this writing it is not known when the funeral will take place.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Roe entertained quite a house party last week. Mrs.
Emma Mitchell from DuQuaque, Iowa,
Misses Lida Brooks of New Way, O.,
and Mr. Park DeCrow of Appleton, O., and Mrs. Dale Woodward Collins of Omaha, Neb., they also visited with Mrs. C. C. Griffith a short time.

WIND STORM

Visited the City Monday Evening, Causing a Welcome Drop in the Temperature.

Newark was visited by a terrific windstorm on Monday evening about 7 o'clock that for a while seemed very dangerous. Indeed the velocity of the wind approached very near the cyclone order, but no serious harm was done, although a good many people were badly frightened. The streets and roads leading into the city were thickly covered with dust, which the wind blew in a perfect cloud before it, making it very disagreeable for any who were caught in the storm. The chief violence of the storm seemed to pass around and expend its strength principally on the east and south, where there were heavy rains and thunder storms, in addition to the wind. The wind storm caused a big drop in the temperature and in consequence people were enabled to sleep during the night.

A SUGGESTION.

Several citizens have asked: Why does not the Newark and Granville Electric railway run an excursion now and then during these hot evenings to Granville? If the railway people would take their open motors, engage the Buckeye Band, and run an excursion once a week to Granville, charging 15 cents the round trip, they would do a good business and benefit the public.

Mr. Matt Bausch, who has been engaged in the lumber business near Buffalo City, N. C., for the past several years, is home on a short visit.
Mr. Bausch has a large force of workmen engaged in cutting timber in the wooded parts of that section for a large lumber firm in New York City.
The timber is principally located in the big "Dismal Swamp," the largest swamp in the United States. Large mills are kept running, sawing the timber into lumber, which is then shipped to the big ship building firms, the timber principally being juniper,
used in building ships.

WEDDING—George R. Miller, an employee of the linen department of Marshall Field & Co. of Chicago, was married to Miss Olga Rosencranz by Rev. L. S. Boyce, at the bride's home 445 West Main street, Monday evening.
The couple will live in Chicago.

REV. MR. MONTGOMERY'S SON.

The following announcement card has been received from Findlay by Newark friends: "William Edgar

The new arrival is the son of Rev.
John Montgomery, formerly pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city.
